ESSILOR: ETHICAL AND RESPONSIBLE

Ensuring that we work in an ethical and responsible way is of the utmost importance to Essilor. Find out more about our Code of Ethics that defines the way we do business and guides our daily actions.

Essilor's culture is built on a set of strong principles and values that enable us to fulfill our Group Mission. Five values (working together, innovation, respect and trust, entrepreneurial spirit and diversity) are complemented by a series of principles that guide our teams in their interactions with partners across the globe.

These principles and values form the heart of our Code of Ethics, which clearly affirms Essilor's commitment to fair and ethical behavior and sets out the rules of conduct the Group expects from its employees. It covers key areas of compliance from ensuring respect of human rights, preventing bribery or corruption to environmental protection and responsible use of resources.

Essilor's Mission of improving lives by improving sight reflects our ambition to contribute to the common good by protecting and correcting the vision of the 7 billion people in the world.
